Dear Matthew,

I have been in discussion with William Griffiths from Innova regarding the ESS Cable Route proposals at Rhostyllen. It was apparent from the onset that a route crossing Offa's Dyke was one of the options and Cadw requested evaluation surveys to help determine the impact of any such route. Innova commissioned a suite of surveys from Archaeology Wales which were reported in Report No. 2288, Geophysical, Topographical and Photographic Survey on Offa's Dyke Scheduled Sections DE132 and DE194 and Cadwgan Mound DE131. The evaluation revealed several sections of the monument which could tolerate a HDD cable approach and gave a detailed assessment of the current condition of the monument.

The results of the evaluation have been incorporated in an options appraisal as set out in the attached Briefing Note. Cadw is satisfied that the Briefing Note provides sufficient information for our agreement in principle to option 1 (the route to the north which avoids the scheduled area altogether) or either of options 2 or 3 which cross the scheduled area. We also discussed some things that Innova could do to improve the condition of the monument which would result in the works having an overall beneficial impact from the Cadw perspective – please see my email to William below for my full response.

With best wishes,

Guy

Hi Guy,

Thanks for your time on the phone yesterday and for the below email.

Could I kindly ask that you provide this response, and confirm no objection, directly to the case officer, Matthew Phillips (matthew.phillips@wrexham.gov.uk)? Matthew can then refer to that as Cadw's formal response to the application when preparing his committee report, he can also consider the enhancements you've suggested and how this could be secured. It would also be worthwhile referencing the additional topo/geophys works completed to date and attaching Innova's cable route briefing note to that email so that Matthew is fully up to speed on the work completed to date that's allowed Cadw to reach this position. Please also cc me in that email so I can follow up with Matthew.

I look forward to working together post determination, all being well.

Kind regards,

William Griffiths

Hi William,

Thank you for your time this afternoon.

As discussed, we are satisfied that the options appraisal, described in the briefing note, provides sufficient justification for agreement in principle to option 1 (the route to the north which avoids the scheduled area altogether) or either of options 2 or 3 which cross the scheduled area. We can discuss the details of the proposed HDD methodology and SMC application in due course. The entry points for the ducting will be outside the scheduled area but are likely to require some form of archaeological mitigation given their proximity to the monument and the results of the Geophysical, Topographical and Photographic Survey evaluation – this will be identified through the planning process in due course and any conditions will be agreed with the archaeological advisors at Heneb.

The briefing note contained your own proposed planning condition wording which I gave discussed with my colleague Neil Maylan: his opinion is that the condition is unnecessary given that it would merely be requiring you to comply with the legislation. However, you mentioned that you suggested the condition because you are keen to show that the project has considered the monument fully and minimised any impacts. In this case however, the archaeological evaluation has highlighted a number of areas where the monument condition (with reference to its aesthetic and communal values) could be enhanced and we can discuss ways in which you can carry out some simple works which will demonstrate that the monument has benefited from the overall project – this could be formalised through legal agreement (eg section 106) and I'm happy to discuss this further.

With best wishes,

Guy

Apologies William & Irene.

Yes, I can confirm receipt of the briefing note. I did speak to Guy about this and he is liaising with our planning team internally. I'll follow this up and we'll let you know when to expect a formal Cadw response.

Good morning Ashley, Guy,

@Ashley.Batten001@gov.wales – I just tried calling your mobile a couple times but didn't connect unfortunately.

I just wanted to follow up Irene's below email which attached our cable route briefing note, which you'd requested was prepared to further detail our cable route optioneering process and to further explain why a cable crossing of Offa's Dyke SAM will likely be required to connect our Legacy energy storage proposal to the national grid.

As you will see in the note, it is considered that reaching a position now whereby a crossing of Offa's Dyke can be agreed in principle, at a location agreed by Cadw, subject to SMC being applied for and successfully obtained, along with and necessary mitigation, is a pragmatic approach to take at this stage given the wider uncertainties outlined in the note concerning the ultimate cable route location. We have suggested that a condition is applied to the planning determination to secure this detailed work ahead of cable installation.

We are fast approaching a planning committee in Q1 2025 and with Christmas inevitably causing some delays, if you could confirm receipt of the briefing note (attached again for convenience) and confirm when Cadw will formally respond to the application it would be greatly appreciated.

If you'd prefer a meeting to discuss, more than happy to – otherwise contactable on below number or by email.

Kind regards,

William Griffiths

Good morning,

I hope this message finds you well.

I wanted to follow up on the ESS Cable Route Briefing Note sent about a week ago to see if you've had a chance to review it. The client is eager to move forward with this project, so any feedback or comments you may have would be greatly appreciated.

Please feel free to reach out if you would like to discuss any aspects of the document further; I would be happy to provide any necessary clarification.

Wishing you both a productive week ahead.

Thank you very much.

All the best

Dear Guy and Ashley,

I hope you are well.

In our last communication regarding the Rhostyllen project, you requested that the client prepare an ESS Cable Route Briefing Note. This document has now been produced and is attached to this email. It provides a comprehensive assessment of all cable route options, detailing the proposed cable installation, cable route options, and an evaluation of the routes. This assessment is intended to justify both the inclusion of multiple route options in the planning application and to explain why a route beneath a scheduled section of Offa's Dyke may be the only viable option.

The client is targeting an end-of-year planning committee date (December/January) and aims to reach a position where you can provisionally agree to a crossing of Offa's Dyke at a location of your confirmation. This agreement would be subject to Scheduled Monument Consent being applied for and obtained, along with any necessary mitigation measures post-planning. To facilitate this, they have proposed condition wording on page 12 of the note to ensure that detailed work is secured before the cable installation proceeds.

We would appreciate your feedback on the proposed approach. The client hopes to reach an agreement that will prevent any potential objections (subject to conditions) to the application.

Would it be possible to schedule a virtual meeting with all parties once you have reviewed the document? I would be happy to arrange it at a date and time convenient for you.

Many thanks,

All the best
