

To whom it may concern.

Grant their permission to trade and develop. What are you playing at as a council. We now have city status with all the cost that incurs. The town centre is ruined and now it appears you as a council wish to force your appalling policies on outlying villages. This project is well placed, family orientated, friendly and an asset to the area.

If allowed to develop would be able to address parking and offer to the area much more. It's time as a planning department to take off your blinkers and remove your personal biases, come speak personally to those who live around and who visit. The project is well supported and viewed as an asset that potentially has the ability to even offer jobs. Come on Wrexham planning and council drop your personal biases and see this project for what it is and the potential it brings to the local area.
