

I fully support this phone mast. Signal in this area is completely non existent.

We should be embracing new technology and the ones against it are old people with the 'not in my back garden' attitude.

I live in the area. The main objections of a spoiled view are complete lies. The blinds of the flat that complained are always closed. The owner is just worried about their buy to let property value