Hi Sarah,

Once I realised that the sample was on site and not in the office, I popped out today to have a look (save Amy a trip) on site.

The sample is a small improvement on the panel. It's a bit more orange, but won't have the variety as in the original. On balance though, I think it is acceptable to replace what's there as long as it's all coming out to be replaced with this sample.

Hi Amy,

Thanks for popping out to look at the bricks. When you get there, there should be a couple of bricks on the ground just under the area where the windows are to be replaced. You'll notice that there is an area that has been bricked up using modern bricks. This is to be replaced with the ones that have been left for our consideration so I just need to know if they'll be suitable given the fact that it's a Listed Building.

Thanks

Sarah.
