Hi Sharon

Hope you're well?

Is this house going to be a portacabin style construction, the drawing looks like it is on blocks? I've gone through the information submitted but can't tell if it is or not.

The reason I'm asking is due to the proximity of the property to the former landfill there could be gas risks, the construction style is therefore important. I note the turkey farm (P/2016/0590) had contamination conditions (5&6) but no I'm not aware of anything being submitted for the discharge of these.

Thanks Angela
