

This architectural section drawing illustrates a building's internal layout and exterior structure. The central portion of the building features a prominent entrance with a pedimented roof and a small cupola on top, marked with a compass rose indicating West (W) and East (E). The interior is divided into several rooms: a dining area on the left with a table and chairs, a central entrance hall, and a living area on the right with a sofa and armchairs. Large windows are visible in the living area and the central hall. The drawing also shows the building's roofline, including a gabled section on the left and a flat section on the right, and the exterior walls with various window placements.
