Dear Philip

I have just received the new consultation on this application and noted the archaeologically sensitive area on the layout plan. It is not entirely clear from the wording on the plan whether they intend to grade the sensitive area, or leave it entirely alone and just grade the ground around it. Could you clarify if the sensitive area will remain exactly as it is now ?

If it is fully excluded we would have no further issues here. If there is some low level form of grading activity within the sensitive area we would require a watching brief condition to be attached as a precaution.

Kind regards

Mark Walters
