

To whom it may concern

My wife and I would like to appeal against the decision to close the Tyn y Capel as a going concern , it's original function as a public house. We are members of the save the tyn y capel group and would not like to see the place lost for ever. There is still a need for such a feature in the locality, the other local public houses are not convenient to the locals of Minera and New Brighton. We live within walking distance of the the Tyn y Capel. Other local public houses do not cater for all the generations of one family as the Tyn did for us.

In the past number of years we have held important birthday's and anniversaries at the Tyn a Capel and always enjoyed it's traditional setting. The Tyn holds many happy memories for us, we had our wedding reception there. We have of late, had to go further afield for such occasions but these new places have never held the same appeal.

This is a historic building and should remain open to the public but not as a residential establishment. What could be more fitting than to continue to offer refreshments of all types to locals and passers-by. This public house should have never been closed.

We are both very sadden at the prospect of the Tyn closing for good. We are willing to work ourselves to make this a going concern, something which can be of benefit to all the community not just a single age group. With the right kind of publicity the Tyn could regain it's place amongst the best public houses in the area. In time, there would be work for a number of people. What is needed is an opportunity to reinstate the building to it's past glory. There is an eagerness and an enthusiasm amongst 'tyn members' to make this project successful.

Yours truly
