We met with Ben Beachell (WAG) and Gifford last week to review the position on the transport assessment for the Chirk Dragon.

Gifford have gone away to do further work on the assessment. However, their proposals for mitigation were somewhat vague. We have asked them to develop specific actions related to triggers. Colin suggested that this be done by way of a unilateral undertaking and that the undertaking should be in place before the application is considered by Planning Committee. I think the following e-mail, which confirms the solicitor appointed by Simon Wingett, is requesting contact details on our side. Are you happy for me to provide both your names and contact details?
