YOUR COMMENTS ON THE CASE

Observation:-

If this is for someone who has a genuine disability , then I feel that it should go ahead, but over the past six or seven years, some of the applications for this sort of change of use have turned out to be rather dubious.

Would it be possible to get a medical opinion on the person that is allegedly having this adaptation made?, this will then serve two purposes:-

- 1). It will make this decision more open.
- 2). It will give a warning to others that may think that they can put these applications forward, and then miss use the finished change.
