I attach the arboricultural report in relation to the above.

I think you will see that the report concludes that neither the siting of the portacabins or the laying of stone is considered to be of significant concern in relation to the trees. The report does, however, recommend a small amount of additional pruning together with some significant felling of dangerous trees and limbs - does this require a separate application or can it be acknowledged, in the light of the report, that these works are necessary from the public safety viewpoint?

As discussed previously, we need to decide in the light of the above what the position is with regard to the application generally and, also, in relation to the parking area, how you would like to deal with this.

I look forward to hearing from you once you have considered the report.
