

To whom it may concern

With reference to the extension to the selling period for Premier Decorations.

I understand the original application was to enable them to dispose of surplus stocks to the public. Two months is more than adequate.

This extension, particularly in October will enable them to promote and retail goods which they presumably have been unable to sell wholesale to a great many retailers in the area - indeed Country.

I and others object strongly to the retail use on an Industrial Estate and any further extensions being granted will only encourage other Wholesalers to seek planning permission on similar estates and once you agree to one how can you object to others. This is taking retail away from the Town Area, creating further traffic and encouraging out of town developments thus fragmenting the retail sector even more.

Another major factor is a multi million pound redevelopment for new access roads to and from the estate already passed by the yourselves to take the already heavy and dangerous traffic away from these particular roads, so allowing this would make a mockery of the decisions already made.

Yours sincerely
