Hi Mared

No comments – that's fine. I doubt anyone uses the path, as further on it descends a near vertical bank.

Hi Sean

This application is for the construction of a new driveway (made in retrospect).

A public right of way looks like it crosses right through part of the driveway. The drive is open, as in you can walk straight across the drive, following the line of the footpath.

Can you let me know if you have any comments please?

Thanks

Mared
