Hi Aled,

Whilst it is understandable that residents have privacy concerns I can assure you that where a camera is near to residential properties, privacy zones will be deployed. CCTV Operators are only to fully aware of the do's and don'ts and have not, and will not use a camera inappropriately.

Each operator has their own individual login credentials, and they are fully aware that any use of the cctv system must be legally and lawfully justified, and that they are responsible for their own individual actions.

The Cameras will be looking mainly towards the main roads or other areas which have minimal impact on privacy. Clear signage informing the public that they are in an area where CCTV is deployed will be on the CCTV Column and surrounding areas (A pic of the signage is attached).

A Pic of the columns is attached, and as in the pic they will be painted black. The cameras will be exactly what you see in the images. The cameras do have night mono mode that will be used when light levels are low, but this doesn't involved the use of any LED lighting to achieve this.

Please let me know if you require more information.

Regards
Stuart

Good afternoon Aled,

I have had some concerns from local neighbours regarding some of the CCTV cameras proposed.

Could you please confirm the direction the cameras will be intended to sweep/cover and whether they give out light? – just so I have a record to place on the file.

Would you please also be able to provide a photograph of an existing CCTV camera/column that I can add to the file to show how they will look?

Finally, if you could also please confirm whether there are measures in place to ensure the cameras don't look directly into the rooms of specific properties?

Kind regards,

John Kerr MSc
