Hi Jodi

I thought it might have been an error in the report, but was just checking in case there was something that had not been submitted. I am happy to confirm in that case that my comments stand and we have no objection.

Kind regards

Mark Walters

Good afternoon Mark,

Hope you're well and thank you for your consultation response.

Mared has asked me for clarification regarding your request for the archaeological assessment referenced in the Heritage Statement. This is an error in the heritage statement and no accompanying archaeological assessment is provided.

As you helpfully set out in your response, you've previously met with our project team on site and the archaeological potential of this land is negligible at best and does not require any additional archaeological intervention. Therefore we did not believe that further work on this was necessary. I hope you can please clarify that even without this, you have no objection, as was the case for the planning application for the wider site.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Jodi Stokes
