Thanks Louise,

The application has now been registered – please see attached. I'll contact the Planning Officer, Sharon Holman, to discuss the possibility of forming a Juliet balustrade to the front first floor gable window and see what she comes back with.

With regards to the elec. supply, building control won't have an issue with you moving the supply.

Whether the meter has to move is a question for SP Energy, it's only the wall fixing that's moving up so the supply can continue around the building if desired.

Kind Regards,

Craig Baines

COVID-19 Contingency Arrangements

Following the Prime Minister's announcement yesterday we have made the decision to close all of our physical studios with immediate effect, our thanks go to the incredibly loyal employees who continued to attend whilst final arrangements were put in place. Through this incredibly challenging time we are dedicated to ensuring our teams are safe and we extend that sincerity to you and yours too.

Our virtual studios are up and running this morning for business as usual, please be assured of the continuity of our professional services. The input and availability of our technical support and design services remain fully available to you via email, telephone and online applications such as Teams and Skype. Our systems have been extensively tested and are robust, we are complying with the Government advice and as such all physical meetings and travel have been postponed for the next 3 weeks at least.

Please don't hesitate to contact us if you have any specific concerns or share your own continuity arrangements to ensure we can provide you with the best support.

Morning Louise,

Please see e-mail below from WCBC.

Please could you settle payment of the Non-Material Amendment as per attached e-mail, the application will then be validated, and a Planning Officer assigned to review the application.

Kind Regards,

Craig Baines
