I would like to appeal against the decision to refuse my planning application to replace my wooden framed windows in a like for like style in uPVC material. On the decision letter I received in November 2019 the reasons for refusal were sited as being that uPVC windows on the front elevation of the property would have a detrimental impact upon the conservation area the house sits in. However a similar application was made by another house in the conservation area in 2018 and they had permission granted. The planning application number for that house was:P/2018/0012. They too applied to replace wooden framed windows in a like for like style but in uPVC material as I have in my application. Their application was granted, despite the fact that this house is in the same village and in the same conservation area as my house. I can not understand how one property can have permission granted and the other not when all aspects of the application are exactly the same in essence and therefore would like to appeal against the judgement and would ask you to review both my application and that of the other house in the village that had permission granted (case number/2018/0012). Further more I would also like to point out that a significant amount of properties in the conservation area already have uPVC window in place, including the Village Hall, and given this I can not see how replacing my windows in this material would have such a detrimental impact on the area. I would be grateful if you could review my application in light of these circumstances.
