Hi Dan,

We've had a bit of a problem with this one in terms of the information being published on our website.

Please see attached a ground condition report which has been carried out. Shall we say another fortnight on this 9.5.2019?

Thanks

Phil

Hi Phil,

In relation to the above, I've received comments from our geoscience team. They've queried the consultation in light of our original response. There was originally a requirement for additional info regarding the location of the new tanks in relation to the water table (original response attached sent 21/06/2018) . I'm not clear that this info was provided or if its included in the info submitted with the DOC application? I couldn't see any specific info relating to this. There are 2 'discharge of conditions – contamination submission' documents uploaded but both are the same. Both appear to be the appendices rather than the report itself. Any clarification on the above would be appreciated. Today is the deadline for a response, so is it ok to extend the deadline until we've clarified these issues?

Thanks,

Dan
