

tradition & performance

PVC-U windows are tough, durable and insulating. They need hardly any maintenance. They open easily and when they're closed, they are secure.

If PVC-U had been available to builders in the past, they would have used it. No one disputes the beauty of timber, but it has drawbacks. In the wet, it can swell. In dry conditions, it can shrink. It can warp or twist and whatever else you do, you'll always have to find the time to take good care of it. Imagine never having to paint a window. Imagine never having a window already welded shut with layers of paint.

Our carefully designed Flush Sash windows replicate the appearance of traditional wooden frames: the delicate curves, detailing and trims, even the colours, grain and texture, but there's more on offer than good looks.

Multi-chambered frames are secure and strong, advanced seals block the weather, high-specification glazing provides thermal and acoustic insulation. We don't believe in 'either/or' - we know you can have traditional style and 21st century performance.

Every component of our flush casement has been tested for safety and performance.

The system is approved by the British Standards Institute and easily passes all the requirements of the Building Regulations and is produced to the ISO 9001 quality standard.

our reassurance to you...

Not every window is the same size that's why our fully trained surveyor will measure each window precisely and confirm your requirements prior to manufacture. Once manufactured each window is checked prior to delivery by one of our fabrication experts and is fully checked again prior to installation.

Our experienced installation team will ensure your windows are installed in a safe and clean manner. The only thing left for you to do is admire the investment you have just made in your home.

THE FLUSH SASH CASEMENT

A Great British Design

SafeGUARD
WINDOW & DOOR SYSTEMS

peace of mind to last a lifetime

Our Flush Casement system represents the best of British manufacturing tradition. In the standards of craftsmanship and design, it is world class. Its windows are charming, elegant, energy-efficient and secure. In appearance, they are virtually indistinguishable from the real thing. Let's rephrase that - they are the real thing.

A Long Tradition, A Long-Lasting Future

Even though our materials are modern and our technology advanced, we've not rejected the best of our traditions. We're as proud of our history as you are of your beautiful home, but we know that your comfort, security, carbon footprint and sustainability are important too, even if

Craftsman Made

We don't expect your windows to be all exactly the same size. That's what our system is designed to cope with. We'll measure everything precisely, and even consider things like your access, your safety, your home's orientation and levels of exposure to the elements. We want to ensure windows that work for your home.

you live in a stunning historic home.

Our Flush Sash system is made in Great Britain by a business that's respected for its methods and its quality, and which employs many of the industry's leading designers and manufacturing experts.

Experts in fabrication will check every detail of finish and frame construction before delivering windows to your home. Our installation teams are skilled with traditional building materials and methods and are well used to handling everything from supertall sash windows to gorgeous feature bays with cherished stained glass.

the essential details

Thermal Performance

Our Flush Sash Casement windows are designed to deliver fantastic thermal performance using 24mm energy efficient sealed double glazed units which have been filled with Argon gas to ensure optimum performance.

Safe and Secure

Style matters, but so does security. That's why our profiles are robust and impact-resistant and our locking systems advanced. Simple measures, like toughened glass in windows that are close to floor height and egress hinges which ensure you've got an escape route in case of emergency, help to keep your family safe and sound.

Hardware

Ergonomically designed cranked handles are fitted as standard with a choice of white, chrome and gold finishes. For that more authentic look why not select the charm of a craftsman made monkey tail handle available in black with a hammered textured finish.

But here's the bonus: our hardware has security built in - features like locking handles, which secure all around the frame, sash locks, and child safety restrictors which prevent sashes being opened too far.

Insulated

When it's cold outside, you want to be warm indoors. When the sun's blazing, you don't want to overheat. Smart glass technologies and multi-chambered frames insulate your home, not just from fluctuating temperatures but also from external noise. No draughts, no cold spots, just peace, quiet, and year-round comfort.

Authentic Glazing Bars

Fitted as an optional extra our astragal stick on bar offers you the ability to recreate that period look. Retro fitted to both the internal and external panes of glass ensuring the elegant detail can be experienced inside and out.

Important Note: Each bar is individually hand cut and applied. Whilst every effort is made to ensure symmetry small variations will occur and need to be allowed for due to fitting tolerances. It is further worth noting as the bar is adhered to the external and internal panes extra care should be taken during cleaning to reduce the risk of snagging the bar and damaging the adhesion.
