To whom it may concern,

Regarding the proposed Traveller site on Fennant Road, Ponciau, Wrexham which local councillors rejected.

I have lived in Ponciau for over filthy years and where the land is situated was a garden for years.

The land runs next to offers Dyke a brook where great creased newts have been found.

The road at the point where the access would be is on a blind dip and if traveling up to Ponciau you cannot see beyond the brow of the hill and the road is that narrow that two larger vehicles cannot pass together and one has to give way.

There are no pavements here and no central road markings on this narrow point, the traffic does not adhere to the speed limit by any means.

There have been numerous accidents at this point with cars going into the opposite field through the hedge or knocking down walls.

I have seen at least five accidents in the past 12 months that went unreported.

Allowing the site would make the road 100% worse.

The Council know the area and the dangers that are present.

The road isn't even safe to walk along as a pedestrian you get pinned again someone's wall because the road is like a formula one track.

We do not want a travellers site on our door step it's appalling that it's even come to this.

Kind regards

E Dyas.
