Hi I am lead to believe you are proposing to site gypsy in my local area, I cannot believe you are even considering locating them in such a nice location with so many tax paying residents living their. Would you like to have them on your door step??
We have so many derelict plots of land that are not populated surely you could develop those??
It seems utter crazy to even consider this and you should decline this idea and any other similar planning without considering developing waste land that make our world look unsightly.
This should be so easy to say no to I'm Afraid

Sorry if it seems blunt but i do find it crazy to even consider that location.

Regards

Nick Bartolo
