YOUR COMMENTS ON THE CASE

I would like to support this Welsh farmer in his proposal to site a free range poultry shed on the land as per the planning application. The UK egg industry will go through some major changes in the next five years ,Tesco and all the leading supermarkets intend to stop selling eggs from cage birds. This will lead to more free range growth and also barn egg production expansion. Its very important that we source the correct eggs from farms which meet UK freedom foods standards ,this farm will have the most up to date welfare designed system and meet all standards. The industry does want to see imported eggs coming from a cross Europe were welfare is not up to UK standards for sale in UK supermarkets. We voted to come out of the EU and we will have to be more self efficient in all industries.

The farmer is also looking into a future for his children growing into the business and one day taking over the business .

I fully support this farmer in trying to plan for the future generations.
