Hello Matthew

I've looked through the Azymuth Acoustics Noise Report and confirm that the EP Section is satisfied that the recommended noise mitigation measures should protect the amenity of future occupiers by ensuring that WHO guideline noise levels are achieved within habitable rooms of the properties.

Regards Nick

Nick,

Sorry to chase on this one – I was a little late in getting the stuff over to you and the planning permission doesn't have long to run so I'd like to be able to respond to the agent asap.

Regards

Matthew

Nick,

The attached has been submitted in order to meet the requirements of condition 03 of planning permission P/2010/0870:

No part of the development shall commence until a scheme of noise insulation and attenuation measures has been submitted to and approved in writing by the Local Planning Authority. The measures as are approved shall be fully implemented in strict accordance with the scheme prior to first occupation / use of the development and shall thereafter be retained as such.

Can you confirm whether the report is satisfactory and allows me to confirm the condition has been met?

Regards
