Thankyou for your consultation.

This is the sort of simple chapel that lends itself to residential conversion and we raise no concerns of principle.

However, as we read the proposals, the proposed internal changes are very radical.

The gallery and its supporting columns, presumably work of 1827, are to be removed completely. But surely this must be justified further ?

A substantial 3-sided new gallery with double steps-up, in timber and steel, is proposed in its stead. No sections are provided to show how this might appear and these must be provided.

We must urge caution that this conversion should not be at the expense of historic character
