Dear Sirs,

As a frequent visitor to the Llanarth area, since I moved out of Shrewsbury in 1985, I enjoy the countryside, the hill walking and local amenities.

I heartedly approve of the decision of the Borough Council to reject the application by Dart Energy to do exploratory drilling in the area and I urge the planning inspectorate to reject the company's attempt to appeal the decision.

I understand the relevant details are planning reference P2013 0660.

Welsh government reference H6955/A/14/2218276

Area: Part of field east of Cammawood farm and South of Borras Road,
Cammawood, Holford, Llanarth

Specifically I reckon the planning inspectorate should reject this appeal because

- 1) The increased industrial traffic will impact of leisure tourism and users of the area such as myself, leaving us waiting behind big lorries and deterring repeat visits
- 2) The unsightly industrial use of the countryside will again detract from visitors enjoyment of the area, causing disproportionate economic disadvantage.
- 3) Drilling for shale gas is incompatible with the UK Climate change act and the UK's commitment to reduce carbon emissions and instead the planning authority should approve renewable energy schemes.

To Summarise please reject ~~the~~ Dart Corporation's appeal against the Council's decision to ensure visitors such as myself can continue to enjoy the benefits of the area, and to ensure the UK's commitment to solving climate change.

Yours Sincerely
