"Overall Conclusion
The erection of a small extension to the existing property would be acceptable in principle, provided that it reflects the character and appearance of the existing dwelling, appears subservient to the dwelling and cumulatively, with other previous extensions, would not erode the character of the original property or the character of the historic landscape. The proposal should not impact upon the amenity of neighbouring properties, should not impact on parking provision at the property and should not exacerbate flood risk at the site or at neighbouring properties."
