

Planning permission has been refused because of the phosphate issue, from the sewage treatment plant. I have now discovered that we can put an phosphate removal unit onto the digester. I attach specification. PLEASE would this now be acceptable as we have had tests done for a drainage field, and the heavy clay soil makes it difficult to do. Your advices would be appreciated, as we are anxious to repair this old building, to make accommodation f
>

Sent from Outlook