
Good afternoon, Matthew,

Following recent evaluation trenching, a site meeting, and further conversations, Heneb can agree to further archaeological mitigation for the Berse Road development being completed post consent.

The development will require significant archaeological evaluation, and a draft condition has been proposed to the planning team. The evaluation will involve archaeological mitigation for which a scheme of works will be agreed and written scheme of investigation provided and approved, prior to any development commencing.

This is in line with Welsh Government Planning Policy Wales (Edition 12, Feb 2024) and TAN 24: the Historic Environment (March 2026).

Kind regards,

Neil
